WITNESS TO REVEAL, HE SAYS, POLICE

INVESTIGATE $125,000 FALL RIVER BLAZE

Failure of Automatic System
Arouses Suspicions of Mill Authorities.
COTTON STILL SMOULDEERS

Special to the Boston American.
FALL RIVER, March 2.—While investigating the fire which destroyed exhibit No. 2 of the Granite Mills Company, containing 1200 bales of Egyptian cotton, valued at $250,000, the mill authorities are still investigating, there being some mystery connected with the results. The cotton is still smouldering in the ruins of the storehouse although the walls stand like immense walls of ice set upon their sides. The automatic system which usually sounds an alarm when a certain temperature is reached, failed in work, and this causes the authorities to believe there may have been something suspicious about the origin of the blaze.

Photographed for the Boston American.

ICE-COVERED RUINS OF FALL RIVER MILL FIRE.

ROB DADS EXPRESS OF $1,900, SUSPECT TAKEN

MONEY PACKAGE LIFTED FROM SAFE IN THE RAILROAD STATION AT SPRINGFIELD.

Special to the Boston American.
SPRINGFIELD, March 2.—A package containing $1,900 was stolen from the safe of the Adams Express Company at the railroad station at Springfield.

The police have arrested a suspect, but refuse to give any information about the robbery. The money is supposed to have been put in the safe last night, and was to be shipped today. When the suspect was taken, he was carrying a package containing the money.

The liner Saxonia, which was expected to arrive at Boston today, has been delayed for several days because of broken machinery.

The ship is now in port at Boston, and the passengers are being disembarked.

SLAVE TO DEATH

Astounding Exposures Promised in Trial of Berthe Claiche, Who Slew Man That Had Enslaved Her—Policemen Friend to Tell
All on Witness Stand.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Statements were made this morning by persons in close touch with developments in the case that Berthe Claiche, "the girl slave," was doomed to death by certain conspirators to save the police.
These assertions were in line with the charge made by the girl's counsellor in his address in court that there was a plot to send her to the electric chair.
Policeman Harry J. Morton, who has been called to the witness stand by the defence, accuses that he will tell all, even if it costs him his position in the police department, and that his story and that of Berthe Claiche will reveal every detail of the truth in relation to the killing of Emil Verdron, the man who enslaved her.

Morton asserted that he believed that when all was told, Police Commissioner Bingham would be on his side. He said he had been offered to testify for the State, but the prosecution did not want his story and his offer was rejected.

MORTON DENIES CHARGES.
Morton said that he had been offered to testify for the prosecution, but he had refused. He said that he was a good policeman, and that he was not a friend to the defence.
He said that he was a friend to the law, and that he was a friend to the people.

Mr. Margaret Blake, of Hull Park, who was the first to bring the case before the court, said that she was a friend to the law, and that she was a friend to the people.
She said that she was a friend to the law, and that she was a friend to the people.

GEORGE GOSTERS' BEATING CHILD

Warrant Out for Arrest of Sandford Followers for Aggravated Brutality

PUNISHED FOR TRIFLES

BOSTON, March 2.—Warrants for the arrest of George Gosters and his wife, Ada, members of "Ellis" bandits, were issued today by the district attorney, charging the couple with aggravated assault on a little five-year-old child, who has been in their hands for the last three months.

The child is a young girl named Helen, who was taken from her mother, Mrs. Gosters, and is now in the hands of the bandits. The child was found in a room in the Gosters' home, and was in a state of extreme exhaustion and fear.

PEACES MEET TO-NIGHT

Death by Indigestion.
A Long Train of Fatal Ills is the Direct Result of Undigested Food.

Undigested food, by fermenting, produces a poison in the stomach and this is absorbed in the blood. If you have a weak liver, the poison will be absorbed in the blood.

It was long ago that the first man who was killed by indigestion was the first man who was killed by indigestion.

The Public Answers

Adam C. Beck, against whom Jennie C. Readle recently was awarded $10,041 damages by the Norfolk Superior Court in a breach of promise suit, has made a settlement. It is reported. The terms of settlement are not divulged.

Beck works on a farm. During the trial he testified that his earnings were $8 a week.

The couple had been close friends for some time and Miss Readle produced letters at the trial to show that Beck made no effort to hide his marriage.

YOUNG WOMEN SHOW GREATEST INTEREST IN HEART PROBLEMS

Write Your Opinion
On Any or All of Them
By Beatrice Fairfax

PERHAPS these three questions of absorbing interest are closer to the hearts of young women than any other. Have you noticed that a wide range of letters received by us in every mail, more than two-thirds are from girls of marriageable age. To be sure, there are some of the other sex, but the experience of numerous and hundreds of answers from them, particularly to the first question, but young women easily lead in the competition. Have you noticed that a wide range of views is covered by these answers?

Well, read these letters through carefully, for if the answers are not to your liking, you will find them all in the questions. Remember will also the daily price of $2, and it may be well to write on your side only of the paper. If you answer more than one question, please write each answer on a separate sheet. Address: PRIZE EDITOR, BOSTON AMERICAN, No. 50-52 Summer street, Boston.

PROBLEM NO. 1

In choosing a wife what qualities should a man consider the most important?

LOVE WILL COOL
PRIZE EDITOR: He should consider his disposition first, as he would never find a wife who is always fault-finding, and who is never satisfied. Love will cool, and he should choose one who would not always expect him to be the perfect lover that he was before marriage.

A GOOD MOTHER
PRIZE EDITOR: In choosing a wife a man should see that she is honest, and kind and loving. He should also see that she is a good mother, and that she is a good housekeeper. A good mother is a woman who is kind and loving to her children, and who is a good housekeeper.

Must a Girl Be Pretty to Demand Man's Attention?

If men never care for it, Beauty alone will not hold a man's plain girl; must a girl be pretty in order to demand a man's attention? The best thing the plain girl can do is to resign herself to her lack of beauty, and make up her mind to compete in spite of her handicap. She must exert herself to be as pleasant and entertaining as possible. The plain girl has to be drawn to their attention, and they must get to know her before they begin to admire her.

Some of these haven't patience and some enough to take the trouble to do it, while the majority in the middle class are not. No plain girl need be destitute of men friends if she takes the trouble to do it. If she takes the trouble to do it, she will not be destitute of men friends. If she takes the trouble to do it, she will not be destitute of men friends.

Men are beauty worshippers; they cannot resist a pretty face. They can fall in love with and marry a girl simply and solely for the sake of her pretty face. After marriage they frequently fall out of love as readily as they fell into it.

Don't Worry About the Jews, Good Mr.
Archdeacon

They Have Worried Along For Four Thousand Years. They Can Take Care of Themselves Without Your Help.

The Brooklyn Standard Union reports an extraordinary speech by the Rev. J. Townsend Russell, the Protestant Episcopal archdeacon of the diocese of Long Island. This archdeacon, discussing what he called the importance of converting the Jews to Christianity, at a dinner of the Episcopal clergymen and laity at the Hamilton Club, said:

"In certain sections of the borough the population is composed of Hebrews entirely. To these Hebrews we ought to go, carrying with them the views of Christianity."

The archdeacon expressed his belief that the Jews would gladly renounce Judaism for Christianity "if the truths of the latter were only presented to them."

Toward the end of his interesting remarks the archdeacon quoted President Roosevelt in a rather extraordinary manner, as follows:

"They (the Jews) should be converted by us for our own protection," he said. "President Roosevelt, before he took up the matter of trying to ameliorate the condition of the suffering Jews in Russia, looked up some statistics, and found that 82 per cent. of the prisoners in the penitentiaries for crimes against morality were Jews, and that out of seventy-two pickpockets sixty-five were Hebrews."

Inasmuch as Mr. Roosevelt is quoted by a distinguished clerical gentleman we are bound to assume that it is a correct quotation.

Ordinarily we should have been slow to believe that Mr. Roosevelt could have spoken as alleged. In any case, we are quite certain that if he ever DID say that the Jews as a class are exceptionally criminal, the statement must have been made long ago, when he was young, and when his writings on American politics and other subjects betrayed more impetuous sense of personal infallibility than attention to facts.

Whether Mr. Roosevelt made this statement or not, we can state positively that it is absolutely inaccurate.

As a matter of fact, the Jews, in proportion to their numbers, furnish fewer inhabitants for prison cells than any other class in the country except, perhaps, the Quakers—and as they have practically disappeared they hardly count.

As to the statement of the distinguished archdeacon, who says that "they (meaning the Jews) should be converted by us for our own protection," we can only characterize that as the most extraordinary piece of impertinence published in a long time.

Equally impertinent is the statement of this archdeacon that the Jews WOULD renounce Judaism for Christianity "if the truths were only presented to them."

It would do Archdeacon Russell good to study the history of the Jewish people. It might save foolish and unnecessary expenditure of Protestant Episcopal money on the conversion of the Jews.

The Jew who becomes a convert to Christianity is a very rare bird; he is usually a mongrel, or a hypocrite, or a snob trying to get into society via the Protestant Episcopal Church—AND OFTEN HE IS ALL THREE. If the archdeacon will read of the happenings in Strasbourg in 1349 he will find that the Jews displayed then, as now, reluctance to take up new religious ideas or to push aside the belief of their fathers and of their nation.

In those ancient times there were gentlemen not so very unlike this archdeacon, who felt that "for our protection," "the Jews should be forced into Christianity." They gave the Jews their choice between "kissing the crucifix and mounting the faggot." In one day, in 1349, in Strasbourg, nine hundred Jews preferred being burned alive to giving up their own religion.

That doesn't look like the act of men easily converted from their ancient belief to the modern notions of an archdeacon, does it? Just before Shakespeare wrote his Shylock—while he, incidentally, was charging ten per cent. for his money and hounding a poor devil who couldn't pay a debt of 62—the Jews of Portugal showed a courage as wonderful as it is heartbreaking to read about. Three hundred thousand of them were expelled from the country because of their religion. And of those who remained, and in spite of everything were faithful to their religion, great numbers allowed themselves to be tortured, burned alive and skinned from head to foot rather than give up the religion of their fathers.

We are inclined to think that the day for forcing or coaxing Jews to give up their religion—FORCING OR COAXING ANY MAN TO GIVE UP HIS RELIGION—has gone by.

The best thing for Archdeacon Russell and all others to do, so far as Jews and their religion are concerned, IS TO MIND THEIR OWN BUSINESS AND LET THE JEWS MIND THEIRS. A race that has managed to protect itself from the attacks of the world, the attacks of disease, that has achieved wonders in science and art, in music, industry, in ALL BRANCHES OF HUMAN EFFORT DURING FOUR THOUSAND YEARS, ought to be able to take care of itself and control at least ITS OWN CONSCIENCE now.

What business has a Protestant Episcopal or any other to go around the Jews interfering with their children, their wives, their beliefs? Suppose that a dozen or more rabbis from the Jewish quarter should invade the neighborhood of Archdeacon Russell. Suppose he should find that a dozen Jews trying to take his children away from him, or that his neighbors were trying to burn him alive. HOW WOULD HE FEEL? WHAT WOULD HE DO?

Does he imagine himself to be the way superior to the Jews when he has the impertinence to criticize us criminals? Let him use the time that he spends now in trying to convince us that laugh at him TO LEARNING A LITTLE SOMETHING ABOUT HISTORY.

There is nothing more irritating, more impertinent, in modern life, NOTHING MORE DANGEROUS TO THE PEACE OF THE COMMUNITY, than this stupid, senseless, and un-Christian meddling of clergymen with the religious faith of others. If the archdeacon and the other Episcopalians will look after their own souls and care for their own conduct and consciences, THEY WILL BE WELL PAID FOR IT. Let them allow others to look after themselves, and attend to their own religion.

The editor and owner of this newspaper, no it happens, is not a Jew. And of those who write editorials under the editor's direction none is a Jew. But it is not necessary to belong to the Jewish race or to share the Jewish faith to KNOW WHAT WINDUPFUL THINGS THE JEWS HAVE DONE. WHAT THEY HAVE DONE. WHAT THEY HAVE DONE. WHAT MARVELOUS COURAGE THEY HAVE SHOWN IN THE DEFENSE OF THEIR RELIGION. WHAT A LITTLE BUSTYDIO UPSTAIRS WOULD TAKE AWAY FROM THEM.

The Constitution of the United States most wisely forbids the Government from meddling in religion. It gives to every man in America the right to think about the laws that govern his soul, his origin and his hereafter AS HE PLEASES, provided he obeys the laws of the United States MADE IN THE UNITED STATES. We are inclined to think it might be well for public opinion to show more energy in regulating the officious, impertinent efforts of certain gentlemen with too much time on their hands to interfere in the beliefs of their neighbors.
